

PRINCETON CLUB OF ROCHESTER NEWSLETTER

Spring 2004

Annual Meeting Set for Wednesday, April 21

The Princeton Club of Rochester's Annual Meeting will be held the evening of Wednesday, April 21 in the Thistle Room at the Country Club of Rochester, 2935 East Avenue.

At this meeting, Princeton friends old and new will gather together to celebrate, elect a board, meet the members of the entering class (who are the Club's special guests for the evening), and hear a thought-provoking talk by Professor Simon Morrison of the Princeton Music Department. His multimedia presentation will focus on one of his favorite subjects, film music, and is illustrated with examples that promise to illuminate our film-going experiences.

Professor Morrison is best known for his research on Russian music, notably ballet and opera, for which he has received several prestigious awards. In addition to his book Russian Opera and the Symbolist Movement (University of California Press, 2002), Morrison has published articles on Prokofiev, Ravel, Rimsky-Korsakov, Scriabin, and Shostakovich, a variety of reviews, and several essays for the

New York Times. A recent Princeton Weekly Bulletin article emphasizes his experience as a researcher and lecturer in Moscow and St. Petersburg and, humorously, his shameless efforts to learn classical dance.

The annual dinner is also the time when our club presents its check to Princeton for scholarship support - a gift made possible by the generous support of the many patrons who made contributions to our club's scholarship fund at the HYP Ball in December.

Last year, over 40 Princetonians attended this event. At the bottom of this page is a form to use in sending in your reservation for the dinner. See you there!
